I'm commenting today to ask for two things from H-GAC: first, that you amend your voting structure so that Houston and Harris county gets the fair representation it deserves based on its population. We cannot let what happens in our metropolitan area be majorly guided by those who do not live here and who do not understand what our community means to us. Second, I am asking that you no longer support the building and expansion of highways that criss-cross our city. Our homes should not be sliced through and communities torn apart so that suburbanites can save a few minutes while they commute through our city and then go home to their safe, undisturbed homes. People live in these places; they should not lose everything because (again) people who do not live here feel it would be most convenient.

Thank you,
Tiffany
